artist bio

Versatile Milwaukee-based artist holding multiple roles, I am a – Fund Development Project Manager, Cultural Curator, and Community Organizer.

My educational background includes a BFA in Ceramics and Photography from the School of the Art Institute of Chicago. With a diverse arts journey spanning design to management, I've engaged with various art genres across public and private collections.

As a collaborative consultant, I spearhead community art exhibitions and both temporary and permanent public art projects, fund development for nonprofits and business administration. My dual identity as an Artist and Project Manager revolves around fostering connectivity. I harness my skills and resources to harmonize projects that uplift neighborhoods, communities, and non-profits.

Annually, I lead Washington Park Neighbors, orchestrating the acclaimed Washington Park Wednesdays. Held at the historic Washington Park Bandshell, these events are curated by a dedicated group of individuals. My role involves design, marketing, and partnerships, culminating in an 8-week concert series that delights the Washington Park neighborhood's residents.

Beyond my engagement with community artists and grant administration, I channel my creativity into functional and sculptural ceramic art in stoneware. My designs prioritize clean simplicity and durability, intended to withstand daily use and become integral to users' routines. Influenced by Scandinavian and Japanese aesthetics, my work embodies a sense of resourcefulness and utility.

MAJOR ARCANA MEANINGS

The Major Arcana cards are the most recognizable and impactful cards in a Tarot deck. These 22 cards represent situations we all face in the grand scheme of life, with each carrying specific messages of perspective and guidance to help you in times of need. While the Minor Arcana cards focus on the everyday actions and decisions you must face, these Major Arcana cards reveal messages about the bigger picture of your life and its long-term direction.

Though each of the Major Arcana cards stands alone with its own deep meanings and influences, these 22 Tarot cards also tell a united story. The first card, The Fool, is the main character of this story, and his experiences as he learns, grows, and makes his way through life are represented by the 21 cards that follow. This storyline is a great description of the accomplishments, setbacks, and lessons we all learn as we go through the trials and tribulations of our lifetime, growing into whole, complete beings by the end of our journey.
